remarking slowness of my brother George. She had just returned from a concert in high spirits, and until the last instrument was enjoying excellent Health.

My nephew tells me that Mr. C.
Speed is now in America arranging some business, and that he <sup>to return</sup> intends, to London and settle there. Tell me of your children, Have they regained their health and strength? Maria, thank God, has recovered from her long and dangerous illness, and is now occupied in painting a large picture, life size, of the Queen Regent and the little King. Next week she will have an audience of the Queen.

Do you know of any kind friend willing to assist me in the Chancery claim.

With love to your wife Believe me to remain

My dear Mr. Gorman

Warm thanks for the welcome Cheque, and for your kind promise to write to me shortly. I am still as usual with my recollection of the Chancery Claim, and hope that some one of influence, who for the sake of the name I hear, may be inclined to consider my claim more
